The European Languages Certificate Program

(TEG) ..involves a graded series of tests which provide the learner with a measure of their improving language competence. The protocol places Irish on a common footing
with other European languages
which are more widely spoken.
There is currently only one testing center in North America. It is located at New York University.

sells out, so please consider ordering your tickets and reserving your place
early. We are soliciting items for the Silent Auction.

We are also looking for a few volunteers
to assist at the Luncheon by greeting
people, assisting in seating, selling bar tickets, coat check, etc. If you can assist in either of these areas, please contact

This year, 2011, is the 60th Anniversary of the founding of Comhaltas Ceoltóirí Eireann and to commemorate this milestone, The 60th Anniversary Achievement Award has been created.

This Award will celebrate within each Branch, the dedication and devotion to Comhaltas by its members, those members who have given their time, commitment, expertise, and enthusiasm to promote in a positive way the Irish language, music, and dance, to keep the Tradition Alive!

Your executive has selected five members who have unfailingly supported these goals within the Branch over the years. You are now asked to vote for 2 whose names will go forward to the North American Convention in March. A ballot including a bio of each candidate will be available online and at the next ceili February 19. Some bios are written in the first person and for editing purposes we have decided to let their own words stand!

Ruaidhri O'Donne Native to Dublin, I became a regular at both the Pipers and Fiddlers Clubs during the late 50's and 60's. I came to Canada in 1969 and arrived in Ottawa in 1970. Comhaltas in Ottawa was a welcoming presence and I became involved in the late 70's. The monthly ceili became a must attend social event where family and friends met to listen to good music, enjoy a pint and a chat. I worked behind the scenes for almost 30 years including a stint as PRO in the late 90's. No Longer a regular attendee, I maintain my membership so I can keep up with Comhaltas news, local and international.

Toni Forsythe

Born in Ireland, I have Comhaltas Ceoltóirí Éireann to thank for helping me settle in Canada. I have three grown children, and am besotted by two red-haired grandsons.

My life was spent in sales, and I am now retired to pursue my real loves, painting and potting. Seventeen years on the committee of the Ottawa branch of C C E.(Sec and Entertainment officer) and two years as Sec, of the Canadian Regional board, taught me a lot about the huge skill level and dedication it takes to run both branch and region. To help promote Irish music in the Ottawa area, the Entertainment position was created within our Branch and while in that position, I set up the music lesson for the Branch and went about bringing in the teachers who taught the fiddle, bodhrán, and flute (including penny whistle) lessons. As a member of the organizing committee for the 2005 Convention held here in Ottawa, among numerous roles, I organized the workshops for the Irish Language and the promo for the Convention, producing a CD of our very talented local Irish music entertainers. Other lasting contributions to the Branch, are the painted panels of Irish dancers and some of the well-known Irish lore that grace the hall every ceili. Currently I am learning Irish through Comhaltas Monday evenings, having a little fun, and babysitting those grandsons. What more can I say!

Caitlin Crockard

Caitlin brings over two decades of Irish dance performance, choreography and teaching to Ottawa's branch of Comhaltas. Alongside a successful competitive career, Caitlin co-founded a professional performance group, First Generation Dancers, who performed and taught workshops at festivals all across the province. Caitlin has danced on CITY-TV and CTV programs, on stage with the K-W Symphony Orchestra, at sessions in Ireland, and for many well-known Celtic musicians, from Pierre Schryer to Ashley MacIsaac. Caitlin teaches and studies dance outside of her full-time hours as a producer for CBC radio. She began teaching the adult Comhaltas class 5 years ago, and delights in teaching all ages and abilities both the history of Irish dance, through the traditional steps, and the exciting contemporary side, through creative choreography. Caitlin brings to each class two principles: instilling in her students a love of Irish culture and music through its dance, and that every body, no matter how old or young, can share this culture by simply moving their feet.

Pat Cassidy

Pat grew up in Ottawa and was introduced to the Irish Community at the age of 17. Her father, a descendant of Irish immigrants, had instilled a pride in the Irish half of her roots and she soon became a regular participant at Irish events in the city. University studies, marriage and children took her out of the loop for a while but she reconnected and joined the Sunday afternoon adult dance class which eventually became part of Comhaltas.

Pat joined Ottawa Branch of Comhaltas about 20 years ago and was active in many areas over the years. She studied whistle with Comhaltas teachers Sheila White and Duncan Gillis and organized and hosted seisiúns at St. Pat's Hall, The Gap of Dunloe Pub and Gentle Annie's Pub. She also participated in Irish dance classes for many years and in Irish language classes for one season.

Pat has worked tirelessly to promote Ottawa Branch; she has served on the Branch Executive for most of her time as a member and still looks after membership for the Branch.

As Public Relations Officer, Pat was responsible for advertising Comhaltas events such as céilís, concerts and our 2005 Convention. This included designing and distributing posters and ad copy, issuing press releases, organizing and participating in media interviews, etc. as well as preparing and sending out the monthly Ottawa Branch Bulletin. Pat started the electronic version of the Bulletin, producing an attractive, colourful document with photographs and hyperlinks. She also liaised with other Irish community organizations, particularly establishing a closer relationship with the Irish Society, writing articles about Comhaltas for their news magazine and arranging to promote each other's events. Pat continues to promote Ottawa Branch as a member by talking to friends and acquaintances and forwarding electronic Bulletins and messages about our events.
